

We-Consent Ambassador Programme

We-Consent is a national long-term campaign to increase awareness about consent and aims to support everyone to have positive consent conversations.

We are looking for passionate changemakers from across Ireland - of all ages, and all backgrounds to apply to become We-Consent Ambassadors.

REQUIREMENTS

1. Complete our Ambassador Training

WHEN?

- In person training on Saturday, 11 July from 10.00am-3.30pm.
- Followed by two online sessions and a Graduation. See page 2 for further details.

WHERE?

In person training will take place in The Fumbally Stables: The Fumbally, Fumbally Lane, D08 HFF2.

WHAT?

Training covers consent, the law, consent culture, how to have consent conversations, activism, trauma and signposting.

2. Consent Conversation Starters

We'll be asking you to open the door to safe conversations with people within your world. Chat to them about consent, spread the word, post online, come or co-host events, point people in the direction of workshops, hand out leaflets and eventually build your own network of supporters.

- You don't need experience or qualifications- just a belief in positive change and support for survivors of sexual violence.
- Successful applicants receive full training and have access to support and mentoring.
- We welcome applications from individuals of all ages, and from all backgrounds irrespective of race, religion, disability or belief.
- We encourage applications from people from marginalised communities with unique perspectives of consent.

APPLICATION PROCESS

Fill in the application form and let us know why you would like to be a We-Consent Ambassador.

Successful candidates will be invited to attend an interview.

Applicants must be able to commit to completing the full Ambassador training.

Ambassador Programme

We-Consent is a long-term national programme to inform, educate and engage with all members of our society about consent.

We-Consent Ambassador Role

Conversation Starters

1

As a We-Consent Ambassador, you will feel better equipped to have consent conversations. You will receive training on consent conversations approaches to facilitate these discussions.

When we talk about consent, it has the ability to support positive behavioral change. We believe that the more conversations we have, the more normal it becomes for others to have them too. Most importantly, it helps normalise the practice of consent in all situations and across all relationships.

Campaign message carriers

Through your support, you have the opportunity to carry the message of consent, We-Consent, and the DRCC into communities we might not otherwise reach. By sharing information about our work, opportunities, research findings, you can help extend the impact of our message.

As an Ambassador, you will also have the opportunity to give a real voice to the campaign by sharing your perspectives, identifying gaps, and helping us strengthen how we interact with society. Every time you bring the conversation about consent into your community, we are having one more conversation than we were before.

Consent Activists

As activists, we at We-Consent believe in the power of change through challenging harmful gender roles, addressing misconceptions, and reframing negative beliefs about consent so that it is seen as something necessary in order to build healthy and happy relationships.

At the core, Activism puts caring, sharing and knowing about an issue into action. We-Consent will provide various opportunities to interact with our work. Whether you're supporting public engagement, conducting desk research, representing the campaign at gigs and events, or marching with us at Pride, you will play an active role in helping We-Consent achieve its mission!
